Fictional document

Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. A recipient is entitled to know where you got their address. It is the only reason the agent waits.

Split by likely source, already established

Matched source	Count	Origin documentable in
Trade show you exhibited at	210	One sentence
Form on your site	87	One sentence
No match	43	To arbitrate

For the first 297, the origin is documented at once and the addresses go back out the same day.

The two routes for the remaining 43

Route	What it requires	Lawful?
Set them aside	Nothing	—
Cold first contact with an origin statement	Opt-out available from the first message	Yes, in business-to-business prospecting

What changes at the door

Every imported file now asks for its origin and date. The field takes five seconds. The question arises where it costs five minutes, not two years later where it costs a complaint.

For the company to settle

Route chosen for the 43: _____

Person approving a list's origin: _____

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
