Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. No compliance rate is produced. It would be computed on what is in the register — and a company with an incomplete register would show an excellent rate.

Item	Kept?	Why
The obligation as entered	Yes	It is the company's register
The evidence and its dates	Yes	Showing a state at a date
Successive owners	Yes	Knowing who tracked what, and when
Deadlines and overruns	Yes	Chronology
Extinctions with their reason	Yes	Showing it applied before
Compliance certificate	No	Usable against the company
Compliance rate	No	Would reward an incomplete register
Score per obligation or department	No	Would compare the incomparable

Item	Kept?	Why
Opinion on the scope of a text	No	Would be legal advice

> A document produced by a tool saying "compliant" is a document an inspector can request. It defends nobody, and it puts the company's own assertion against it.

Why a rate would reward omission

Company	Obligations entered	Obligations met	Rate shown
A — complete register	84	76	90%
B — incomplete register	40	39	98%

Company B shows the better rate and has the more dangerous register. That is the complete argument, and it fits in two table rows.

What the quarterly summary contains
