Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. The file is built continuously from the first second of the signal, not reconstructed afterwards. It always separates what is established and by which source from what is being established, with the means of establishing it.

What the file holds

Section	Content	Why it is asked for
Timestamped chronology	34 events, 6 sources, clock realignment documented	An expert's first question
Established perimeter	1 account, 2 machines, 3 directories	Determines the scale
Outbound attempts	8, all blocked, firewall verdict for each	Establishes the absence of recorded exfiltration

Section	Content	Why it is asked for
Data potentially concerned	1,615 files identified by name: 1,402 accounting documents, 213 payroll files	A third party's first request
Actions and timestamps	With the name of each mandate's signatory	Establishes control of the response
Hashes of the copies	One per source copied	Shows that nothing was retouched

The three versions

Recipient	Format	What is adjusted
Board	One page	Facts, scale, decisions taken, timeframes
Analysts and expert	Full technical file	Nothing removed
Third party	Dedicated version	Architecture details removed, with the list of what was removed and why

A regulatory notification is prepared in hours, not days. Because the file is complete and dated before the question arises, the company's counsel decides what has to be notified on a finished file, not on a reconstruction from memory.

> Building the file moves from 30 % to 4 % of investigation time, and it no longer depends on the memory of whoever was on duty that night.
