Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. Tracking matches every acknowledgement to its order, then the promised date to the need-by date. The 218 orders of the quarter are tracked without a planner opening a spreadsheet.

The state of the book this morning

Situation	Number	Action
Orders acknowledged, date in line	213	No action
No acknowledgement at D+5	3	Chased — the message asks for a date and commits nothing
of which answered the same day	2	Dates confirmed
Promised dates slipping	2	Impact costed, two answers prepared

The slip that matters: control boards

Element	Value
Assembly line supplied	From the 14th to the 21st
Delay announced	3 days
Stoppage cost assessed	€12,800

The two ways out, costed

Way out	Cost	Consequence	Status
Move the assembly batch by 4 days	€0	2 customer deliveries move to week 12	Notice messages drafted, customers identified
Cover from the 2nd referenced source	+ €1,900	0 days of stoppage, no customer delivery moved	Draft order ready, availability within 48 h

> Covering costs €1,900 and protects €12,800: that is the recommended way out, and the ratio between the two amounts is computed on the hourly cost of idling the line as it stands in the company's cost accounting.

What tracking delivers continuously

Indicator	Before	Over the quarter
Lines sent out as emergencies	231 a quarter	79
Acknowledgement chasers	Occasional	34, of which 29 answered within 24 h
Target reachable with the stock management agent	—	Under 40 emergency lines a quarter
