Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. The figure the agent publishes about itself appears in the same table as the others, with its measured cause and the correction that followed.

What was corrected

Quarter	Costings prepared	Corrected on substance	Rate
First	1,240	112	9 %
Second	1,310	19	1.5 %

The cause, measured rather than assumed

Cause	Cases	Explanation	Correction applied

Recent endorsement missing from the cover repository	84 out of 112	The repository updates once a month: an endorsement signed on the 3rd only appeared on the 1st of the next month	Reading the endorsement attached to the file + 340 policies read again
Depreciation scales specific to three old commercial policies	28 out of 112	Scales written in an older form	Rewritten in the same form as the others

What those 112 did not produce

Measure	Quarter
Wrong payments	0
Time to rule out a wrong line	2 minutes — every item carries its clause
Files handled	2,550
Decisions taken by a person	2,550
Settlements set without human approval	0
Policyholder data leaving the network	0

That is exactly what the reference to the contract is for, and it is why it is not negotiable: an item carrying its clause is checked in two minutes, an amount without a source is checked in half an hour.

> The real fix goes beyond the agent: updating the cover repository when the endorsement is signed, rather than once a month. Across the six years read, 61 files had been costed by hand on an endorsement that was not carried over.
