Fictional document

Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. The firm, the claim forms and the counts are invented; no real person is named. The only moment at which one can not read is before reading.

This morning's out-of-scope filing

Element of the document	Read?	Kept?
Policy number	Yes	Yes — it is what identifies the owner of the document
Risk carrier	Yes	Yes
Drivers' names	No	No
Registrations	No	No
Circumstances and sketch	No	No

Element of the document	Read?	Kept?
Remarks box	No	No

Where that data is not

Destination	Does it enter?
The extraction index	No
The technical log	No
The error message	No
The processing queue	No
The reading cache	No

A full extraction followed by a deletion would leave a trace everywhere it passed — the queue, the cache, the log line quoting the zone read. The stop therefore precedes the reading.

What the log returns, and what the principal asks for at audit

Quarterly measure	Value
Filings logged in two columns — portfolio invoked, portfolio of the document	All
Out-of-scope filings	4
Stops before extraction	4
Policyholder data leaving its portfolio	0

The redirection, and the mandate that makes it immediate

Passing a policyholder's document to a third party binds the firm: the move carries its signature. With a mandate carrying the list of permitted recipients, redirection takes seconds, with an acknowledgement, instead of the two days a manual redirection takes. The mandate is capped, dated, and withdrawn with a word.

Recipients permitted by the redirection mandate: _____

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
