Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. The firm, the claim forms and the counts are invented; no real person is named. The counts below belong to THIS batch. They are redone every morning and are not a rate.

What arrived, and in what shape

Filing channel	Forms	Of which phone photographs
Filing extranet	121	68
claims@ mailbox	81	58
Post scanned at the office	8	0
Total	210	126

The difficulties actually met, and what became of them

Difficulty of the document	Forms concerned	Handling
Photograph taken past 20° of tilt	34	Straightened and read
Print-through from the back visible on the front	57	Read through the print-through
Two different handwritings on one pad	188	Told apart
Freehand sketch	203	Straightened, enlarged, returned on screen
Ambiguous circumstances box	19	Two candidates set before the referent

> The batch is ready at 7:40. 179 files open in one grouped click; 19 await a box decision, 7 a missing item, 5 a match confirmation. No file is opened without the referent's move.

The gap found reading back over six months of filings

Reason for the request	Share of requests	Cause identified
Missing back page	3 in 4	The filing screen accepts only one file
Missing signature	1 in 8	Form filled in but not countersigned on the spot
Other reasons	1 in 8	Various

Two lines to change on the extranet — accept several files, and ask explicitly for the back page — and the leading cause of requests disappears. That is not a reading setting: it is a filing setting, and it costs nothing.
