Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. The texts are designated by their subject matter and not by an official reference: no real reference is cited here. In a deployment, every line carries the exact reference, the publication date and the link to the text.

Why an effective date and not a publication date

Type of monitoring	Nature of the information	Suitable handling
Press, competitors	A news item: it is worth something the day it appears	One alert, at publication
Regulatory	An appointment: the day of publication is the day the text does not yet apply	A calendar, with a return at every effective date

The dates extracted from each text

The reminders set

Reminder	Recipient	What it is for
At 6 months	Quality and regulatory manager	Planning the workload
At 1 month	Quality and regulatory manager	Starting the remaining work
At 1 week	Quality and regulatory manager	Checking it is done

The scope stays set by the quality and regulatory manager: the 11 declared subjects are covered without exception, and a twelfth is added in one line — only the company knows it exists, and the agent tracks it from the next watch onwards.

For the company to decide

Subjects to add to the declared scope: _____

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
