Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. The measurements come from the legal department's timesheets, the invoices of the four firms and the indexing log. No outside data is used.

The unfavourable measure, its cause and its correction

Finding	Value	Cause	Correction and effect
Old poor-quality exhibits	310 of 14,200	Faxes and scans, illegible receipt stamps	—
Wrongly dated on the first pass	41	Date of sending taken instead of date of receipt	Systematic check against a second source
Dated by two concordant sources	297 of 310	Covering message, receipt, mail register	Cross-check applied by default
Awaiting a confirmation	13	Precise question prepared for the project manager	3 answers received this week, date confirmed
Dates revised over the last six weeks	0	—	The rule applies to every new file

An unfavourable measure published by the agent itself is worth more than one discovered by an opponent. This one was identified, explained by its material cause and corrected by a verification rule that now applies by default, new files included.
