Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. The pointing does not come from the name, it comes from the fineness.

Grouping	People	Published?
Rare subject + small department	3	No
Rare subject + short period	2	No
Common subject + department	1 to 4	No
Common subject, no department	Over 5	Yes

Three questions on a rare subject in an eleven-person department: three people have just been described, though no name ever existed.

Total made publishable again	11 of 17
Do not go out	6

The threshold of five is proposed, not settled: no source grounds it as yet, and it awaits the data controller's decision. What is held back does not vanish: the groupings kept below the threshold go for human validation, together with the rewording that would make them publishable.

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
