Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. Indexing works on file CONTENT, not filenames. The document being hunted was called CER_charte_VF_VRAIE_final2.pdf and carried neither the advertiser's name nor its version number.

The request and what comes back

Document	Date	Why it's attached
Cerault brand guide v2.3	14/03/2024	The document wanted — last version before the rebrand
Rebrand brief	09/2024	Explains what changed and why
Awareness study	01/2024	Prompted the rebrand
8 v2.3 adaptations still live	2024	Materials nobody has updated — they carry the old logo

What makes a file findable

Signal read	What it gives
Logo and palette	The advertiser, even without their name in the file
Filing date	The version, when the name lies
Nature of the content	Brand guide, brief, study, deliverable, rights agreement
Internal cross-references	The related documents, returned alongside the one requested

State of the drive

Finding	Volume	Consequence
Files indexed	4,180	—
With no usable name	1,260	The ones you hunt for on a Friday evening
Duplicate versions	312	Risk of starting again from an outdated version
Hours of “looking for a document” in the quarter	41 h	More than a full week of work for five people, from the timesheets

What is proposed: a monthly sweep of recent uploads to tag the advertiser, the type of document and its version. Indexing renames nothing and moves nothing: existing paths keep working, and the agency can stop the monthly sweep without losing the index already built.

For the agency to settle
