Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. This attachment publishes a second figure unfavourable to the agent: 12.0 % of drafts rewritten before signature. It gives the measured cause, the fix and the result after the fix. No analysis of the merits of any file appears here: numbering bears on a document's form, its date and its place.

What is recorded on each incoming document

Entry recorded	Where it comes from	What it prevents
Date of arrival at the unit	Timestamp of the arrival channel	A time limit calculated from the wrong date
Named issuer	The document's letterhead, or the originating channel	An anonymous document in an adversarial file

Entry recorded	Where it comes from	What it prevents
Reference under the filing plan	Filing plan settled by the head of unit	A schedule that no longer follows the file's order
Establishment file it attaches to	Matching on company number / name / address	A document filed to the wrong case
Contents list regenerated	Recalculated after each filing	Twenty minutes lost in front of a waiting employer

The costed item

Before	After	Hours returned
100 % manual — 2 staff, 4 working days a month, 56 h/month, 672 h/year	20 % — checking and validation, 134 h/year	537 h

The published gap: 134 drafts rewritten out of 1,118 — 12.0 %

Reason for the rewrite	Number	Share of the 134	What it says
Article version taken — file-opening date rather than the day of the fact considered	98	73.1 %	The inspectors are right: the dated fact governs the applicable version
Wording of a template clause judged too general	21	15.7 %	Template tightened, the head of unit settled the new wording
Order of the schedule of documents	9	6.7 %	Classification corrected the following quarter
Other reasons, non-recurring	6	4.5 %	No reason recurs more than twice
Total	134	100 %	—

The fix, and its measurement: since 3 June 2026, a file whose facts straddle an amendment goes out with BOTH versions side by side and the switchover date; the inspector picks the right one. Across the 214 drafts produced since, 9 were rewritten — 4.2 % — and none on that ground. The rewrite log is what made the cause visible: a system that does not record its rewrites never improves.

The log of document moves — how it corrects the classification

Quarter	Documents moved by an inspector	Dominant reason	What was corrected
Q1	47	« Third-party document » category too broad	Category split into « third-party — employee » and « third-party — organisation »
Q2	6	No dominant reason	—
Q3	4	No dominant reason	—
Q4	5	No dominant reason	—
