Fictional document

Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. A document resaved in 2026 and written in 2017 would look current — the worst of both worlds: old and reassuring.

Type of date	What it indicates	Used by the agent?
Content date	When the text was written or reviewed	Yes, where it exists
File date	The last open-and-resave	No
Today's date	Nothing	No

What the agent says

"According to [document], undated..."

Two words, and the reader knows what they are holding. It is not comfortable, and that is intended — the comfort would come from an invented date.

Indicator	Value
Documents with no content date at go-live	96
Dated by their authors within two months	31
Dated by the agent	0

The thirty-one were dated because the word "undated" appeared in answers those authors were reading themselves. No chasing was needed: the word is visible where it stings.

Why the agent does not date them

Consequence	Effect
A date applied by the agent	Would be an invented date
In the base	Indistinguishable from a real one

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
