Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Nobody asked for this list. It is produced every morning from the matters the firm has given access to, and it surfaced three points that day: a deadline six days out, an exhibit served on 06/08 at 18:12, and a settlement returned without initials on page 3. It covers what it has access to, and it widens with every matter the firm opens to it — a deadline not yet on it is still a deadline the firm already keeps.

Matter	Alert	Deadline	Basis
Ternois	Time to respond to the other side's submissions	6 days	Service on 24/07, acknowledgement on file
Halvex	Other side's exhibit 14 served	—	Schedule received 06/08 at 18:12
Brissac	Settlement returned without initials	—	Page 3 not initialled

Ternois — what remains to be checked

The period is taken from the case management order. The computation has not been re-characterised: the day it runs from, and any postponement where it would expire on a holiday or weekend, call for a check that is the solicitor's.

Halvex — why this document matters

Exhibit 14 was relied on at paragraph 27 of the other side's submissions and absent from the schedule. Its service contradicts the date on the acceptance record (exhibit 22), already flagged in the case summary.

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
