Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. The agent states from the first sentence that it is an artificial intelligence, and this is not a configuration option: since 2 August 2026, article 50 §1 of the European regulation on artificial intelligence requires that any person interacting with an AI system be informed, unless this is obvious.

What goes to a person — and what the member gains by it

Request	Handling	What the member gains
A pension amount by telephone or in an automatic message	Redirected to an estimate request	An estimate goes through a written document and an adviser's review: the amount they receive is the one that binds the fund
An individual hard case	Passed to the regulatory specialist	It is handled by the competent person, who answers for their answer
A decision on a file	Passed to the adviser	The decision stays with the adviser, with the file already assembled in front of them

What this changes, for members and for staff

Measure	Before	After	Reading
---------	--------	-------	---------

Availability on those five questions	Opening hours	Around the clock	2,900 Saturday calls used to reach nobody

Calls handled by the 8 reception officers	41,000	15,600	The ones that need a person
Average time spent on those calls	6 minutes	11 minutes	What counts is not the number of calls handled, it is the time given to the person who needs it

The AI disclosure, and what it produces

Measure	Value	Reading
Exchanges concerned	25,400	All of them, without exception
Members who asked for a human officer	640, that is 2.5%	All transferred, with what had already been gathered
Request to be repeated	No — it holds for the rest of the file	Announcing the machine does not drive people away: it is waiting that drives people away
