Why the written plan is required here

Criterion	What the Labour Code provides	The operation at hand
Volume of hours	Written plan required from 400 foreseeable hours over 12 months or less, work continuous or not	520 hours — 3 workers, 6 weeks
How the threshold is computed	Sum of the contracts concluded for one and the same operation, not contractor by contractor	One contractor, no subcontracting announced

Criterion	What the Labour Code provides	The operation at hand
Hazardous work	Written plan required whatever the duration where the work appears on the list set by ministerial order	Not applicable here, the hours threshold sufficing

The interference risks identified

Interference	Work unit exposed	Measure retained	Who answers for it
Work at height above the cutting area	Cutting and machining	Area locked out and cordoned during the work	User company
Power cut to the spray booth	Finishing and varnishing	Cuts scheduled outside production shifts	Joint
Vehicles moving down the forklift aisle	Handling and storage	Dedicated time slot, aisle cleared	User company
Materials stored in the workshop	All workshop units	Dedicated location, clear of traffic routes	Outside contractor
Hot work	Finishing and varnishing	Hot work permit and flammables moved away	Joint

> The written plan is kept available throughout the work to the labour inspectorate and the prevention officers of the social security bodies, and the start of work is notified to them in the conditions the Labour Code provides.
