Fictional document — demonstration example
This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. The boundaries of the units belong to the company: the proposal below is argued from its own reports.

The principle applied

A work unit groups employees exposed to the same risks, not those carrying the same job title. That is what decides whether the whole document is any use: an administrative split produces an assessment that describes nobody.

The seven units and what characterises them

Unit	People concerned	Dominant exposures	Reports attached
Cutting and machining	6	Machines, noise, flying particles	13
Assembly	7	Postures, manual handling, hand tools	11

Unit	People concerned	Dominant exposures	Reports attached
Finishing and varnishing	4	Solvent vapours, fire, postures	14
Handling and storage	2 forklift drivers	Vehicles, loads at height, ambient noise	9
On-site fitting	5	Co-activity, height, travel, cluttered sites	8
Design office	3	Screen work, trips into the workshop	4
Administration	1	Screen work	2

> The two forklift drivers left « workshop » for « handling and storage ». Their job title has not changed; their exposures have — and exposure governs.

What the new split changes

Measure	Old split	Proposed split
Units described	5	7
Reports attached	39 out of 61	61 out of 61
Reports attached to two units	0	3 — interference risks, workshop / handling

The call put to the company

Should « on-site fitting » be split in two depending on whether the site is occupied or empty? The exposures differ markedly — co-activity, public movement — and the 8 reports split 6 against 2. Two units describe better; one is easier to keep current.
