Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. No review tool publishes this figure: the usual measure is the number of remarks produced, and it improves as the tool grows chattier.

Cause of incident	Incidents	Subtle?
Race condition	1	Yes
Time-zone edge case	1	Yes
Untested value	1	No
Query-scope error	2	No
Regression on existing behaviour	2	No

Five of the seven were not subtle. The agent does not explain them by their difficulty, because that would be excusing a defect that does not have that cause.

What approval times show

Of the 5 non-subtle incidents	Count
Merges approved in under 2 minutes	3
Merges approved beyond that	2

Two minutes is the time to read the agent's opinion, not the code. The agent's review is read in addition to the developer's, and that is what makes it useful.

What the agent concludes, and what it does not

Conclusion	Drawn?
My review does not replace yours	Yes
Reviewers are careless	No
I must be improved	Yes, and it is not enough
