Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. Two of the four flags concern the agent itself: its silences and its rejections.

#	Flag	What triggered it	At stake	Recipient	Chase
1	API key pushed 40 min ago	Branch analysis	The history and the copies	Whoever pushed + security	Immediate
2	7 incidents on silent reviews	Incident log	What the agent lets through	Nobody — its own measure	—
3	89% style remarks	Remark history	The automatic formatter took them over	Nobody — fixed	—
4	41 remarks rejected of 312	Fate of remarks	The reasons	Monthly summary	Monthly

> No chasing on a remark. An unaddressed remark stays a remark, not a reminder — an agent that chases its own opinions gets them handled to silence them.

Six acts kept by your developers — everything else is already done when they arrive

The act, kept by a developer	Why it is theirs
Modify code	Nobody reviews the patch of whoever found it
Approve a merge	An approval carries somebody's name
Lift its own block	Being in a hurry would suffice to convince it
Rewrite a history	It breaks everybody else's copies
Revoke a key	It can stop production
Count remarks per developer	It measures who writes the hard code

> Request a demo with your own documents
> This document is a fictitious example. To see the agent work on your own documents, request a demo from its page.

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
