Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. The adversarial stage is the point at which the employer and the insured person may consult the material in the file and make their observations before the decision. When the deadline passes without a decision, the accident counts as work-related by default — and nobody has decided anything.

What seven years of files show

Measured finding	Annual volume	What it costs
Files handled	10,000	9,400 accidents, 600 occupational illnesses
Deadline reached with no adversarial stage opened	1,400 — 14 %	A decision taken without the parties being able to speak

Measured finding	Annual volume	What it costs
Instruction deadlines overrun	780	The calendar settles it instead of the officer of which files taken over by another caseworker mid-handling	611	The date is lost at the hand-over, not through negligence

The timetable rebuilt, file by file

Stage	What is recorded	Alert
Report received	Portal or post timestamp	—
Starting point of each deadline	Calculated and displayed, no longer held in the head	—
Deadline for opening the adversarial stage	With its state: opened / not opened	D–15, D–7, D–2
Decision deadline	With the state of the file	D–15, D–7, D–2

The rerun over twelve months

Measure	Recorded	With the timetable and alerts
Adversarial stages not opened by the deadline	1,400	0
Deadlines overrun	780	41
Files that become decisions again	—	739 a year

The standard timetable for each type of file is written in everyday wording, one line per stage, and takes effect through the service's signature. Twenty-four caseworkers stop holding dates in their heads, and not one file decides itself again.

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
