Files prepared for the session of 21 May · criteria grid resolved on 14 October 2025 · fictional document

> Fictional document — demonstration example
> This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

> Fictional document. The children, families and files cited are invented for the demonstration. This is a session pack, not a decision: the panel reviews, weighs and allocates in session, on the record.

> These six files are the best demonstration of what the agent brings, and of what it leaves. It brings: six complete, sourced sheets, with the history of every movement and the document behind every point — work that used to take several hours and that is done. It leaves: the choice. On these six files no position is proposed — this is exactly where the panel does something no scoring grid replaces, and it is also what makes its decision explainable to a parent.

Sent tonight, the 5 reminders make the 5 files reviewable on 21 May. Without them, those families would have waited for the following panel — three more months, over two pages. It is the item where the gain shows fastest: last year, 74 files were held over from one panel to the next for want of an up-to-date document.
