Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. An amicable reminder is the first letter sent to a contributor whose instalment is unsettled: it precedes any procedure and has no binding effect. It is often the only contact a struggling director will have with the body.

From 2,106 apparent accounts to 1,840 reminders

Stage	Accounts	What happens
Accounts in arrears on the 4th day	2,106	Raw state, before matching
Payment arrived, allocation pending	266	Receive nothing
Reminders prepared	1,840	Sorted by what the situation calls for

The sorting, and what each letter carries

Level	Volume	What the letter carries
First reminder	1,510	Amount due, instalment concerned, surcharges applying and how they are calculated, in plain language , link to request time to pay, direct number
Second reminder	246	Recalls the first reminder and its date , which nobody has time to check by hand
Situations flagged without being asked	84	Amount due doubled over two instalments after three years without incident — referral letter to the support unit, three free slots

The time this shifts

Item	Before	With the agent	What the time given back becomes
Preparing an amicable reminder	60 % of the task's time — 9 minutes	10 % — 1 minute 30	2,700 hours across 21,600 reminders, back to the contributors who need a call

A director called at the first incident settles in one go; the same director, six months later, asks to spread it over twelve. That is why the 84 slipping situations surface before the run, not after.

What stays with the caseworker

Action	Who does it
Reading and approval before sending	The caseworker, on every letter
Decision to grant time to pay	The head of amicable collection
Calling a director in difficulty	An officer — that conversation is not delegated

To be settled by the service
