Grid read from 1,940 decisions, trial on 80 letters · fictional document

Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. A waiver of surcharges writes off all or part of the late-payment surcharges: it has to be asked for, it is not granted automatically. Which is why it passes by those who do not know it exists.

The grid, as it reads in your decisions

Element	What it weighs in the decisions handed down
Returns up to date at the time of the request	Present in almost every grant
Debt cleared or plan kept	The second most discriminating element
No incident over the two preceding years	Clearly separates grants from refusals
Surcharges relative to the debt	Modulates the extent of the waiver

Element	What it weighs in the decisions handed down
All four together	Explain 91 % of the 1,940 decisions of the last three years

This grid is not invented: it is yours, as it reads in your decisions, and nobody had had the time to write it down. The 9 situations out of 1,940 where two different decisions were handed down on neighbouring cases are documented — which is what allows the tenth to be decided in full knowledge.

Wave	Volume	Expected effect on the committee
Trial	80	Done — 63 requests
Two waves a month apart	270 then 270	About 200 extra requests over the quarter
Handling those requests	—	8 minutes instead of 40, the four elements already filled in: absorbed without an extra sitting

58 companies that were entitled to something and did not know it obtained it. Equal treatment stops depending on what a director happens to know about the administration: the hardest gain to cost, and the easiest to defend.
