Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. The agent states in its first sentence that it is a digital assistant of the court, not an officer. This is not an option that can be switched off: the European regulation on artificial intelligence requires that anyone interacting with an AI system be informed, and the caller can ask for an officer at any moment.

What the service receives, and what goes unanswered

Channel	Annual volume	No answer the same day	Cause
Telephone	7,200	1,480	Desk open 30 hours a week for 210,000 residents
Counter	3,100	0	Queue during opening hours

Channel	Annual volume	No answer the same day	Cause
E-mails and site form	1,500	420	11 days average time to answer
Total	11,800	1,900 — 16 %	—

The eleven subjects — 7,100 enquiries out of 11,800

Subject	Enquiries a year	Where the answer is
Where a case stands and the hearing date	4,300	Case management application — the answer existed, availability was missing
Documents to provide for a step	780	Reception desk leaflets
Legal aid	610	Leaflet and contact details of the competent office
Consulting a file and copy of a decision	480	Registry access rules
Joining as a civil party	310	Service leaflet
Appeal deadlines	270	Particulars printed on the service document
... and 5 other subjects	350	Leaflets and pages of the court's site
Total	7,100	60 % of enquiries already have their answer written somewhere

The scope rule — what goes back with the right contact

Enquiry	Handling	What the court user gets
---------	----------	--------------------------

Where does my case stand, when am I summoned	Answered, with the date the information was last updated	The answer, at any hour
What is going to happen, what are my chances	Never an assessment of the outcome	The contact details of the bar, the legal advice point and the victim support service — a complete route
Content of a file, investigation file under way	Outside the scope in every case	The answer drafted by the agent goes to the registry, which sends it within 3 hours
Request for an officer	Details taken, dated call-back for the service	The subject is already noted when the officer calls back

The measured result: enquiries with no answer the same day 1,900 → 470, average time to answer an e-mail 11 days → 1 day, and 430 hours given back to the reception desk over the year — 30 minutes down to 24 across 4,300 enquiries, that is 10 % → 8 % of the scale.
