Technical framework — where procedural exhibits live, and how you get out

> Fictional document — demonstration example
> This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

> Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. It describes the architecture actually offered. A court handles procedural exhibits, parties' identities and material covered by the secrecy of the investigation: the most protected data in French law.

The two deployment modes, at the court's choice

| Mode | Where the computation happens | What leaves the network | For whom |
|---|---|---|---|
| On-premises inference | On one of the court's machines | Nothing | Courts with a server of their own |
| Isolated resource | On a dedicated server hosted in France, under French law | Nothing outside the European Union | Courts that would rather not run a machine |

On-premises inference means the model computes on your machine: the text of a police record or an expert report crosses no external network to be processed. In both cases the resource is dedicated to the court: no pooling with another court — that is the condition for continuity of service.

What protects the procedural exhibits

| Point | Implementation | What the court can write in its reply |
|---|---|---|
| Training | No procedural exhibit feeds a model, neither ours nor a third party's | « The exhibits train no system » |
| Write rights | The read-only technical account has no right to write to the applications | « The tool cannot alter any document, technically » |
| Encryption | In transit and at rest | « A stolen medium stays unreadable » |
| Role-based access | An investigation file can be opened only by the chamber seised and its registry — 9 roles for 44 staff | « Each member of staff sees only what their duties require » |
| Logging | Who asked for what, when, and what was produced | « 0 out-of-role access since go-live » |
| Hosting | France, under French law, architecture designed to reduce exposure to extraterritorial legislation, location alone not being enough to guarantee immunity | « Deployment objective: processing and access within the European Union » |

The acts reserved to a person — and what the agent brings for each

| Reserved act | Whose it is | What the agent has already done when it arrives |
|---|---|---|

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Delivering and reasoning the decision | The judge's | The complete file, the chronology rebuilt, the exhibits matched to their number, the sources open alongside |
| Authenticating the document | The clerk's | The draft on the registry template, mandatory particulars checked, interval calculated case by case |
| Setting the hearing list | The presiding judge's | The state of files ready for judgment, and the 34 waiting on a single exhibit |
| Serving a decision on a party | The registry's | The service prepared the evening of the hearing, with its plain-language companion sheet |
| Assessing the scope of a court decision | The judge's | The published decisions, their dates, the extract of reasoning — never a summary that would stand in for the text |

It is this division that gives the court's acts their value: a decision delivered and reasoned by a judge is open to challenge, therefore defensible; a document authenticated by a clerk carries authority. The agent makes the file ready in minutes; the acts that bind stay where the law put them.

The way out — checkable before committing, not afterwards

| Item | What becomes of it on the day you stop | What stays with the court |
|---|---|---|
| The index | Deleted | No procedural exhibit was copied into it — the files have not moved by a byte |
| The log of enquiries and productions | Handed over in an open format, or destroyed | The court chooses, and the question is settled at go-live |

| Item | What becomes of it on the day you stop | What stays with the court |
|---|---|---|
| The 11 standard answers and their plain-language and easy-read versions | Exported in a format readable without us | They remain usable at the reception desk |
| The companion sheets for summonses and notifications | Already in your files | Made of your own acts: they belong to you |
| The index of decisions delivered by the court | Handed over in an open format | Twelve years of decisions become searchable again |
| The subscription | Annual, no automatic renewal | It is renewal that requires a decision, not termination |

> A dry-run exit is offered at the end of the first quarter, half a day: we switch off, we check the court works exactly as before, we switch back on. The first Friday in August carries 3 hearings against 9 on average — that is the date that costs least.
