Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. This is the page to give to the committee member who asks the question. What is excluded is excluded in every case, and what is given back instead answers the same question — why some cases stall.

What is excluded, and it is not a setting of caution

Request	Answer	Reason
Assessing the risk a person would present	Not produced	European law treats the administration of justice as a high-risk use and reserves the decision to a person
Scoring a court user, a party, a lawyer	Not produced	A score would make the decision indefensible before the very person it concerns

Request	Answer	Reason
Predicting the outcome of a case	Not produced	An outcome is reasoned and can be challenged; a prediction cannot
Named indicator per judge or per clerk	Not produced	The day it is tracked, it becomes a target: the way files are handled bends to please it, and the instrument destroys what it measures

What is given back instead — and answers the same question

Lever	State today	What is already prepared	Measured effect
Deadlines met and missed, with no name on them	26 tight deadlines last year	Nightly check of the 1,240 deadlines	0 this quarter
Files waiting on a single exhibit to be ready	34	All 34 requests for production are written	They are what makes the months of waiting
Grounds for adjournment over twelve months	61 adjournments: 9 for a missing exhibit, 14 for a returned summons, 38 other	Checking cited exhibits and addresses before sending	7 adjournments avoided in one quarter
Workload by division and type of case	Tracked	Quarterly tracking page drafted	Never by person

The committee gets three measured levers instead of an intuition — the 34 files waiting on an exhibit, the 23 avoidable adjournments, the 62 new questions that take the most time. On the first two, the court has already won 7 adjournments and 26 tight deadlines in one quarter.

The three things the agent does without being asked

Action	Rhythm	The reverse is also true	Withdrawal

Checking the procedural deadlines	Every night	A deadline that stops running leaves the schedule at the same hour	In one word
Matching the reference library against the day's publications	Every night	A note whose scope is restored by a later publication is flagged the same way	In one word
Weekly statement to the registry	Every Monday	It goes only to the registry and carries no court user's name	In one word

> The log answers the person who asks what the court holds about them, and proves, if challenged, who validated what. That is proof the court had on none of its tools.

For the court to settle
