Notice deadline 19/08/2026 · fictional document

Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. None of the three letters is sent. Terminating a contract is an act of the company; the agent prepares all three versions and picks none.

The contract

Period	Call-outs	Cost per call-out
2022	41	€1,317
2023	34	€1,588
2024	19	€2,842
Last 12 months	6	€9,000

Four of the six call-outs in the last twelve months relate to the same incident, in April. Counting them as separate call-outs would flatter the supplier and be less true. The detail is filed with the contract.

What these figures do not say

A fall in call-outs may come from less need, from a parallel contract placed by another department, or from work done in-house and never recorded. Nothing on file settles between these three, and they do not call for the same decision. Checking is the company's job.

Three letters, ready, unsigned

Option A — terminate. Non-renewal letter to be sent before 19/08, by recorded delivery. Effective 30/09/2026. Assumes a replacement is settled by then.

Option B — renegotiate. Request to revise the flat fee on the basis of 2024-2026 volumes, proposing an on-demand contract. To be sent before 19/08 so the right to terminate survives if the answer does not suit.

Option C — express renewal, shorter term. Written agreement for 12 months instead of 36, on the same terms. Requires the supplier's agreement, which they are under no obligation to give.

Options B and C stack with option A: sending a termination does not prevent renegotiating afterwards. Sending nothing, however, closes all three — and reopens in 2029.

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
