Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. Established by counting the documents actually issued from each template over nine financial years, not by declaration.

Three templates out of sixty-two, more than a third of production

Template	Documents per year	Share of production
Complaint reply — waste charge and water bill	640	25.8 %
Briefing note accompanying a resolution	210	8.5 %
Temporary collection decree	61	2.5 %
The other 59 templates	1,569	63.2 %

Template	Documents per year	Share of production
Total	2,480	100 %

The three time items, before and after

Item	Share of time today	Target share	Minutes	Annual volume	Hours returned
First draft of a decree or resolution	60 %	18 %	90 → 27	630 records	661 h
Reply to a complaint	37 %	10 %	18 min 30 → 5	1,850 letters	416 h
Answer to a recurring resident question	10 %	8 %	2 min 30 → 2	2,400 requests	20 h
Total					1,097 h

> 1,097 hours is seven months of a full-time writer's work — given back to the service at identical headcount. No post cut, no post created: it is the argument that stands up best before elected members, because it can be checked in the authority's own logs.

The gain that is not counted in hours

Finding a precedent in the archive took 14 minutes on average across the year's 630 records — 147 hours. The index of the nine years brings it down to four seconds, with the record, its date, its number, the template it came from and the delegation it cited.
