Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. Articles are ranked by what they cost, not by their age: three of the nine are less than six months old.

Article	Views/week	Requests after reading	Age	Profile
A	60	14	2 weeks	Procedure changed
B	44	11	8 months	Procedure changed
C	82	9	3 months	Badly titled
D	31	8	14 months	Procedure changed
E	96	7	5 months	Badly titled
F	28	6	2 years	Unreadable — 17 steps
G	19	5	11 months	Procedure changed
H	71	4	4 months	Badly titled

Article	Views/week	Requests after reading	Age	Profile
I	22	3	3 years	Unreadable

Profile	Articles	Nature of the defect
Procedure changed	4	The article is wrong
Badly titled	3	The article is right and beside the point
Unreadable	2	The article is accurate and unusable

The second family is the most interesting and the hardest to see. Those articles are not wrong: the customer finds them, reads them, and leaves with the answer to a question other than their own.

What is provided for each

Element	Provided?
View count	Yes
Requests arriving after reading	Yes
Those customers' exact wordings	Yes
A proposed rewrite	No

Customer wordings are what is missing to fix a badly titled article: they say what the customer was actually asking at the moment they opened the page.

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
