Fictional document

Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. None of those 41 answers was an invention: each cited an accurate page, current within its own universe.

Element	Finding
Answers citing a source	41
Sources accurate when written	41
Describing behaviour the product no longer has	41
Inventions by the agent	0

The user could check the source, and checking confirmed the answer. Two documents agreed and the product said otherwise — which is what makes this defect more insidious than an error.

The line also appears when the documentation is still accurate. That is the price, and it is low.

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
