Fictional document

Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. An overall coverage of 87 % can describe exactly the opposite of reality.

Item	Kept?	What it allows
Tests with no assertion and their marking	Yes	Seeing the 41 tests green forever
Flaky tests, failure rate and reruns	Yes	Treating the cause instead of rerunning
Quarantines: owner, reason, renewals	Yes	Separating a decision from an oversight
Coverage by module	Yes	Seeing the 12 % where it counts
Unanswered questions on expected behaviour	Yes	Not carving a defect into a test

Item	Kept?	What it allows
Measures per person or team	Not by default	Lawful — file supplied on request

Why coverage by module

Scope	Coverage	What it says
Overall	87 %	Reassuring and false
Three modules carrying the calculation	12 %	The real risk

> The overall figure is true and it protects against nothing.

The 41 tests with no assertion

They would pass even if the function under test always returned the same value. They have been green forever — and that is what makes them invisible.

If you open per-team measures

It is lawful, the file is supplied. What is said first: a team measured on its failing tests writes easier ones — and you get 41 more tests with no assertion.

For the company to settle

Per-module coverage threshold triggering an alert: _____ %

Failure rate above which a test is declared flaky: _____ %

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
