Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. No code is approximated. A customs entry is a declaration: the declarant answers for it, and a wrong code is corrected by a procedure, not an email.

Filled, with its source

Item	Value	Source
Consignor	Verne Industries, Lyon	Commercial invoice
Consignee	Halbran AG, Basel	Commercial invoice
Incoterm	DAP Basel	Purchase order
Gross weight	1,840 kg	Packing note
Net weight	1,712 kg	Packing note
Packages	14	Packing note
Invoiced value	€38,400	Commercial invoice

Item	Value	Source
Declared origin	France	Commercial invoice

The five items

Item	Description on the invoice of 03/08	Earlier description	Code carried over?
VP-450	Identical	Identical	Yes — 3 earlier entries
TR-118	Identical	Identical	Yes — 7 earlier entries
LM-0887	Identical	Identical	Yes — 4 earlier entries
RB-2214	Set without accessories	Complete set	No
DK-0451	Set without accessories	Complete set	No

> Two descriptions changed between the earlier shipments and this one. It may only be wording — but if the contents changed the code may change with them, and the divergence is picked up across a run of shipments, not on a single one.

The question to the customs agent

"Two items in this shipment have a changed description on the invoice of 3 August 2026: "complete set" becomes "set without accessories".

Our ten earlier shipments of these items carried the previous description. Attached are the current technical sheets for both articles.

Please confirm the applicable code."

What goes without waiting

The rest of the file — three items, all administrative fields and the attachments — is ready and does not wait for the two codes. Only the two lines concerned stay open.
