Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. No claim is submitted. A claim commits the company, quantified and dated, and it gets signed.

File 1 — €14,200, deadline in 4 days

Document	State
Proof of delivery	Scanned
Consignee's reservation	Dated the day of delivery
Consignment note	On file
Photographs of package condition	On file
Loss quantification	Established

Nothing is missing from this file. It is the largest of the three and the simplest: it is waiting on a signature, and the deadline expires in four days.

File 2 — €3,400, deadline in 6 days

Document	State	Constraint
Proof of delivery	Paper, with driver B.	Returns to the depot Thursday
Consignee's reservation	On file	—
Consignment note	On file	—

The driver returns Thursday, the deadline expires Friday. It is achievable and tolerates no slippage: a return pushed back one day loses the file.

File 3 — €890, deadline in 6 days

Document	State
Proof of delivery	None, neither scan nor paper
Consignee's reservation	On file
Consignment note	On file

The file can proceed without the proof, with a lower chance. That is a decision to be taken knowingly, and it is not the same depending on what this customer represents.

File 3: ☐ proceed without the proof · ☐ ask the customer for a confirmation · ☐ drop it
