Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. It is information about the watch setup, not about the subject.

Declared theme	Articles over 11 months	Sources covering it
Theme 1	412	7
Theme 2	96	3
Theme 3	0	0
Theme 4	0	0

It does not mean nothing is happening there: it means that if something did happen, you would not know.

What the agent does, and does not

Action	Done?	Why

Send the finding to the domain lead	Yes	Only they know if the subject deserves a source
Send it to the watch team	No	It is not their decision
Add sources itself	No	An unchosen source becomes an unreviewed source

What is proposed

A review of the list, once a quarter, on one page: the twelve sources, their last article, their rhythm, and the themes none of them covers.

> Request a demo with your own documents
> This document is a fictitious example. To see the agent work on your own documents, request a demo from its page.

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
