Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. Company, funds, unitholders, accounts and people are invented — and on this subject, the people whose transactions are worked up are invented too. Nothing is written into any real system. This record is the raw material: the alert was raised by the company's own monitoring system, which it calibrates, versions and supervises; the agent takes it in as it stands.

What the scenario measures, and what it does not claim to establish

Scenario RACH-04 compares the redemption date with the onboarding date, and the State of the destination account with the State of subscription. It measures a gap; it characterises no offence: it is a trigger for examination, and the examination starts here. Version 2 tightened the threshold from twelve to fifteen months on 12/01/2026; that version is quoted with the file, because an alert is assessed in the light of the rule that produced it, not the rule in force when someone re-reads it.
