Fictional document

Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. The grouping was useful and partly wrong — which is why it stayed a flag.

What the 23 NCs report	Count
Surface defect	9
Dimensional deviation	7
Scrapped part	2
Customer return	1
Other symptoms	4

Common factor spotted	Value
Occurring after a material batch change	23 of 23
Occurrence window	Under 48 h

Common factor spotted	Value
Workshops concerned	4

What the team actually established

Cause established by the team	NCs concerned
Material batch change	16
Setting not restored after maintenance	7

> A coincidence of dates is not a cause. An analysis written by a tool that knows neither the process nor the material would be copied into the audit file — and taken apart in two questions.

Without that grouping: 23 separate corrective actions, of which 21 would have treated a symptom.

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
