Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for the demonstration. Version identifiers, hashes and article numbers belong to the invented corpus of the demonstration. No write is made in any real system. A re-publication is not a change, and a change to an annex is a change.

What change detection compared, item by item

Version consolidation links initial text, amendments, corrigenda, consolidated versions and guidance together, with their dates: the reader follows a story rather than a pile of files. That consolidation is what makes comparison possible — without a dated reference version there is nothing to compare.

Item compared	Version held	Version received	Result
Articles in the body of the text	Consolidated 14/03/2026	Consolidated 28/08/2026	1 amendment — application calendar
Annexes	Consolidated 14/03/2026	Consolidated 28/08/2026	No amendment

Item compared	Version held	Version received	Result
Definitions	Consolidated 14/03/2026	Consolidated 28/08/2026	No amendment
Thresholds	Consolidated 14/03/2026	Consolidated 28/08/2026	No amendment
Dates	Consolidated 14/03/2026	Consolidated 28/08/2026	1 date moved
Status of the text	In force	In force	Unchanged

The eight re-publications set aside, and what the difference was measured on

June 2026 review	1 document re-published by the authority at a new address altered nothing but an ANNEX — body of the text identical, annex opened by the group lawyer	Detection rule corrected on 03/07/2026: annexes now enter the comparison on the same footing as the body of the text
Replay over twelve months	147 documents re-compared with the corrected rule	3 further cases of the same defect found, all three in annexes, all three opened as files
Deadline check	The 3 cases read one by one	None carried a deadline that had already passed — checked document by document, not inferred
Measured effect	False positive rate of the detection	11 % before correction, 4 % after, over the same twelve months

A detection rule carries a version number and a date of entry into service, here v4 of 3 July 2026. Every comparison returned states the rule version that produced it: that is what makes it possible, a year later, to know why a document was filed the way it was — and to replay the comparison with today's rule to see whether the conclusion still holds.
