Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. Making a field optional does not empty the CRM: it is already empty, it is merely filled in.

Item	Kept?	What it allows
Values proposed and their source	Yes	Answering "where does this field come from?"
Share of fields left empty, and which	Yes	Seeing what is not known
Duplicate groups flagged and their outcome	Yes	Tracking the merges decided
Mandatory fields and their default-value rate	Yes	Spotting those manufacturing falsehood
Records saved incomplete	Yes	Proving the arrangement works
Anything describing the people filling them	No	Beside the point

The central indicator

Finding	Value
Mandatory fields	12
Filled in more than half of cases with a default value	4

> Those four fields manufacture falsehood at every entry, and they do so because they are mandatory.

The most important point of the arrangement

An incomplete record saves. When it cannot, the person invents — and an invented value is indistinguishable from a true one six months later.

Duplicates: flagged, never merged

Finding	Value	Why the agent does not merge
Groups of records probably designating the same entity	214	A merge cannot be undone
Sources of ambiguity	Accent, legal form, abbreviation	The agent gets it wrong

For the company to settle

Mandatory fields made optional: _____

Who decides a merge: _____
