Fictional document

Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. Seven contradictions were not contradictions: the two sources spoke of different scopes.

Nature	Count
Scope difference, revealed by comparison	7
Real contradiction	5

The three arbitrations the agent does not make

Tempting rule	Used?	Why
Take the most recent	No	An update can be a mistake
Take the most cited	No	That is the circular chain
Take the most official	No	It may cover a different scope without saying so

What is handed back for each position

Not an answer, but actionable — which an arbitrary choice would not have been.

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
