Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. A check the agent cannot run reads "unknown", never "clear".

Sender authentication checks

Check	Result read in the header	What it establishes
SPF	fail	The sending server is not declared by the domain
DKIM	absent	No signature to verify — neither valid nor invalid
DMARC	policy "none"	The domain asks for monitoring, not rejection

Check	Result read in the header	What it establishes
Sending history of the domain	unknown	Data unavailable — the agent replaces it with no assumption

The domain, against your earlier exchanges

Element	This message	Your 12 previous exchanges
Sender domain	arvern-partenaires.fr	arvernpartenaires.fr
Difference	one hyphen added	**—
Contract reference quoted	none	Quoted every time
Request	New bank details, before the closing	Invoices and reminders, never bank details

Writes made into the billing tool: 0 — no bank details recorded, changed or put forward for recording

The route proposed, and it gets there

A change of bank details is confirmed outside the thread that asks for it, through a channel the firm chooses — the number on the contract, never the one in the message. The prepared call script carries the reference of the last accepted transfer and its date, so that the person at the other end has to quote it. The decision to call, and the decision to record afterwards, belong to the administrative manager.
