Fictional document — demonstration example

This document is produced by the Blue Lemon Agent website to illustrate what an AI agent hands to its users. The companies, matters, amounts and people in it are invented. It has no legal, accounting or commercial value.

Fictional document, produced for demonstration. An agent never reports that it has become wrong.

What changes around the agent	Changes in the agent?
A price	No
A threshold	No
A rewritten internal procedure	No
A form whose fields moved	No

An agent that has become wrong produces plausible answers: consistent with a rule that no longer exists, they are only caught by comparison with the current one.

Finding	Value

Agents with no review date	11
Age of the oldest	22 months
Agents applying at least one obsolete rule	7 of 30
Of which for over a year	2
Having caused a detected incident	0

What happens at the deadline

The agent goes on working — nothing is cut — but it is marked "not reviewed" in the inventory and in its internal answers.

Scope of this document: the service operated by Blue Lemon Agent. For an agent deployed at your premises, the applicable location is that of the architecture set out in the quotation and verified before commissioning; local execution is announced only for the configuration explicitly described and accepted in the quotation; the applicable isolation depends on the deployment mode set out in the quotation, no dedicated isolation being presumed; the encryption mechanisms in transit and at rest, their components and key management are those documented for the architecture chosen; roles and permissions are configured and accepted for the identities and systems actually connected; the events logged, their content, their retention period and who may access them are defined for the deployment chosen.
